Purpose of Workshop:

Our recording studio has worked with many artists. Often, they share a common interest and concern. How and where to obtain an instrumental for their song? This workshop series was created to address this very need. Whether rap, hip-hop, or other genres the need for:

that “just right” instrumental for a recording project is essential.

Many options for instrumentals exist, including perhaps, creating your own! Each session is one hour and covers a specific topic, some of which are outlined below:

- Explore the options for instrumentals (commonly referred to as “beats”)
- Hardware and software options for making instrumentals
- Concepts to include in an instrumental. Structure / style / live / digital / length / components
- How to progress / add / modify through your project – the creative process / adjusting as you go
- Demonstration of digital and live recorded sounds in a project
- Too much / too little / just right. Listen / critique instrumentals to improve your ear / learn your preferences.
- Over several sessions, the instructor will demonstrate the creation of one or two different instrumentals
- Local guest producer presentations on instrumentals for sale or lease. Q & A (questions / answers)
- Last week (individually scheduled) - use facility for 60 minutes to create your own production (terms apply)
